Created for Connection

A “Hold Me Tight”[®] for Christian Couples relationship enhancement workshop

Repair, enhance, and continually grow the connection in your love relationship

Conversations for a Lifetime of Love

Developed by Dr. Sue Johnson, this couples workshop utilizes principles from Emotionally Focused Therapy, the most effective couples therapy, and attachment theory to provide new relationship tools, practice important skills, and get out of distress. It will teach you and your spouse how to connect emotionally to create the relationship of your dreams.

We were created for connection. We were created to love. Romantic love is all about attachment and emotional bonding. It is all about our wired-in need to have someone to depend on, a loved one who can offer reliable emotional connection and comfort. Love is not the icing on the cake of life. It is a basic primary need, like oxygen or water. Once we understand and accept this, we can more easily get to the heart of relationship problems.
